March 2, 2026

Team Austal USA,

It's not every day that the world gets a front-row seat to the incredible work happening here in Mobile. We are excited to announce that Austal USA will be featured on the upcoming episode of Now We Know! with Steve Guttenberg.

The segment takes an inside look at our advanced engineering, our steel and aluminum fabrication, and—most importantly—the skilled workforce that makes it all possible – each of YOU!

How to Watch:

- When: Saturday, March 7 at 12:00 p.m.
- Where: CNBC

Get a Sneak Peek: If you want a preview before the full episode airs, keep an eye out for the promo video playing on our digital screens throughout the facility starting today. It offers a great summary of what the national audience will see.

Thank you for the craftsmanship and dedication you bring to the yard every day. We hope you'll tune in with your families to see your hard work in the spotlight!

Keep up the great work,
